

BERLIN WHITE HOT OVER EXTRACTION DEMANDS

Police Clamp Lid On Gambling Games Proposed Food Relief Fund Is Slashed

OBEYANCE OF LAW IS DEMANDED BY CHIEF MORRISSEY

VIOLATORS WILL BE HAILED INTO COURT,
CHIEF SAYS.

EFFECTIVE TODAY

Risking Money on "Rummy"
and Other Gambling Games
Tabooed Throughout
City.

"No more gambling in Janesville."
This was the edict issued today by Chief of Police Thomas Morrissey to take effect immediately.

The lid will be clamped down tight and will be held there by the members of the police force, he promised.

Proprietors of cigar stores, saloons, pool rooms, and other places where gambling at cards has been flourishing for years, were given a warning by police officers last night that after midnight all violators would be arrested and brought into court.

"Rummy" tables lay idle throughout the city today as a result of the chief's sudden and unexpected order which was effective at 12:01 o'clock
this morning.

Judges Are Included.
Chief Morrissey does not propose to allow gambling of any kind in any public places, lodge or club rooms, or private homes. Raids will be staged if necessary to put a stop to risk games, he said.

The chief believes those who have been playing cards can find plenty of wholesome and clean amusement in other ways than betting their money.

"Whatever they may choose to do,
it must not be gambling," the chief declared.

It was brought out in the story of Alonso Dowd, told in municipal court yesterday, that he had been losing money playing cards at a restaurant where he had been working for casting bad checks.

Heavy Fines for Offenders.
"Rummy" games have been in progress in back rooms of cigar stores for several years. It is apparent that the game has been growing in popularity of late. The police have been known here in some time.

The statutes provide a fine of $500 or six months in jail for any one convicted of gambling in any form; while any man knowingly allowing a game of chance to go on in his store or home is liable for a fine of $500.

Two weeks ago the lid was thrown down on Sunday gambling.

DEBS' LAST SPEECH READ IN N. Y. TRIAL

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Albany, N. Y., Jan. 29.—Eugene V.
Debs' "last speech before his voice was silenced" by a penitentiary sentence of 10 years for violating the Espionage act, was read into the record today at the trial of the five suspended socialist assemblymen being tried by the assembly judiciary committee on charges of sedition.

In his speech, made before socialists in Cleveland last March, Debs, declaring he spoke as a socialist, praised Lenine and Trotsky "as the greatest statesmen in the modern world," and expressed defiance of the laws of this country by "the supreme court."

The speech was distributed in pamphlet form by the city committee of the socialist party of Greater New York according to the prosecution.

It was started in advance of the Milwaukee trouble. No complaint has been made nor has a complaint been served.

plaintiff which gives the state
jurisdiction in the case," Jones said.
That is all that has been done.
Mrs. Keister returned to the west after the Milwaukee trouble but did not desire reconciliation.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 29.—According to charges in a warrant served out before the United States court here, Thomas L. Chase,

Council Plans $4,500 Salary Increases for Municipal Employees

Salary increases for city officials aggregating close to $4,500 were tentatively approved at an informal meeting of the common council at the city hall last night. The boosts will come before the council for final authorization at its next regular session, Feb. 9. If passed the raises will be effective April 20.

The salary of the city engineer will be increased from the present amount, $2,000 to $3,000, if the proposal is carried out.
This will be the largest raise given any one official. It is felt the work of his department has increased to such an extent during the past year that the increase is justified.

The city attorney, city assessor and city sealer will each receive a $500 raise. It is planned, while the street commissioner and city treasurer are slated for $400 boosts. The five aldermen to be elected in April will receive $300 per year while salaries of the remaining five councilmen will stay at $250 until the new scale.

These men are now receiving $200. The proposed increases are:
visiting nurse, $200; plumbing inspector, $130; city chief, $200; city hall janitor, $130; first six months patrolman and $120; second six months patrolman, $120; third year, $50; city electrician, $50; assistant fire chief, $120.

The period of probation for patrolmen and firemen it was proposed to change from one year to six months, paying $1,440 as an entrance salary to be increased to $1,500 after the first year, $1,320 the first year, $1,380
the second and $1,440 the third.

No suggestions were made to raise the salaries of the mayor, city health officer, police chief, probation officer, or call men for fire department.

In the plan to raise the city engineer's salary $1,000, it was agreed it be done on condition that he accept no fees for work done, all fees for surveying to be turned into the city treasury. It was proposed to increase the salary of the sealer of weights and measures from $400 to $1,000 on condition that he make quarterly reports instead of annual ones and that he devote all of time to work.

DURANT SAYS NEW HOTEL IS ASSURED; $237,500 RAISED

Optimism was the keynote of the address of W. C. Durant given before hotel campaigners at a banquet in the Myers hotel last evening.
That he had discarded all pessimism
as to the response of Janesville to the calls made upon it, was the outstanding feature of the talk of the General Motors corporation president, who dwelt at length on words of praise for the younger business men of the city who have taken up the work of preparing for the city's growth.

Regarding the dire need of an adequate hotel here, he expressed assurance that the $400,000 campaign now in progress would be a complete success.

"I have never regretted that we decided to build the Samson plant in Janesville," he declared. "I have had confidence in Janesville business men throughout."

J. T. Smith, general counsel of the General Motors corporation, and J.
Craig, president of the Samson
Tractor company, also spoke.

Figures available at the Chamber of Commerce at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon totaled $237,500 toward the $400,000 stock campaign for the new hotel. This amount represents all the stock which has been actually subscribed and the balance of $162,500 Cards at the office. Other cards which have not yet been turned in will swell the total to at least $250,000 it is believed.

It is planned to call a meeting of stockholders sometime next week for the purpose of complete organization of the hotel corporation. A board of directors will be elected. In turn will designate the time of payment of subscriptions.

PEANUT POLITICS IN HARBOR BILL CHARGE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Jan. 29.—Sharp denunciation of the action of the house in cutting down the Harbors and Bays appropriation bill marked the beginning of senate committee hearings on the bill today.

Describing the bill as a product of "peanut politics, gotten out so some of our friends on the other side can go to the country saying see how we saved," Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, warned that the senate would have to adopt closure to pass the bill.

"This bill results from cheap politics over in the house of representative," said the senator. "We do the country a disservice by making damage for every dollar we save by cuts of this kind."

The committee decided to call in the engineers and get their views item by item with the expert advice.

SEC. GLASS MAKES REDUCTION IN LOAN OF $25,000,000

TION OF HOOVER, GIV-

BRITISH GIVE SHIPS Argentina, Canada, and Eng- land Agree to Participate in Aid.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Jan. 29.—Reduction of $25,000,000 in the $150,000,000
loan proposed for relief in Poland, Austria, and Armenia was made today by Secretary Glass appearing before the house ways and means committee.

Mr. Glass said the reduction had been decided on in conference with Herbert Hoover, who was quoted as saying that the loan or gift of $50, 000,000 was suggested in committee.
"It would do more harm than good,"
he said.

"Fifty million dollars would not relieve the menacing situation and create a precedent for other countries," said the secretary.

England to Provide Ships
Assistant Secretary Norman Davis told the committee the reduction was made possible by "Great Britain definitely agreeing to provide the ships for transporting the food. He added that Argentina and Canada had "signified a willingness to participate, estimating that $10, 000,000 would be provided by them.

GEORGIAN APPEALS FOR AID IN RUSSIAN BOLSHEVIKI FIGHT

Tiflis, Trans-Caucasia, Russia, Jan.
29.—Europe's refusal to consider the real facts regarding conditions in Russia has in effect aided the bolsheviks in gaining the control they today enjoy, said M. Jordis, president of the republic of Georgia to the Associated Press here today.

He pointed out there were three great forces in Russia, the bolsheviks, the anti-bolsheviks, and the nationalists.
The last, he said, was made up of people who wish to be free from the other.

A three sided civil war is going on, with the bolsheviks winning because Europe wants some sort of a peace, he continued. "In this united Russia, Europe hopes to reestablish the old regime and therefore has persistently refused to help the small nationalities such as ourselves and Armenia."

Given arms, bolshevism would long ago have been put down. We respected the great name of the people,
the bolsheviks, and the nationalists.
The last, he said, was made up of people who wish to be free from the
other.

"We fought the bolsheviks, we fought Denikin and now our republic is hoping for recognition from the world conference. We are gradually organizing a national army with a population over 3,000,000 and has a business future. High commissioners have been sent here by Italy,
Great Britain, France and other nations."

ECONOMICAL USE OF PAPER URGED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Jan. 29.—Voluntary reduction of news print consumption by publishers is the primary remedy of the paper shortage, Chairman Carter of the Senate Committee on Printing today said before the house ways and means committee. Publishers of big papers, despite agreements among themselves have not predicted economy that is necessary, he added.

"The size of the papers is hardly a subject of legislation," he continued, urging smaller Sunday editions
and the elimination of extra editions.
Repeal of the excess profits tax and removal of the income tax on profits also were suggested by Mr.
Carter as remedies. He said the shortage trouble began with the excess profits tax discouraging unusually large expenditures for advertising as a means of evading the tax.

"Smaller publishers are most hurt," he declared. Mr. Doyle, secretary of the paper publishers, is keeping paper on contract.

The contract price, he declared,
averages four and one quarter cents and the current market price is about nine cents.

LENROOT DELAYS TREATY CONFERENCE; SENATORS DEBATE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Jan. 29.—Negotiations between democratic and republican leaders of the senate who apparently have approached a deadlock, will not be resumed until tomorrow, the meeting of the bi-partisan committee planned for today having been postponed because of the absence of Senator Lenroot, Wisconsin,
one of the republican leaders.

There were indications that some senators on each side welcomed the delay and there were many conferences during the day to perfect plans for the committee meeting which may bring a final showdown on the question of continuing the negotiations.

There was much discussion of what course friends of the treaty should take if the bi-partisan negotiations ended without an agreement. Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, administration leader, has told republicans that in such an eventuality he proposed to move to take up the treaty in the open senate, but he said today he would not do that until all hope of compromise by private negotiation had disappeared.

Meantime it developed that some democratic senators were inclined to the belief that nothing would be gained by throwing the treaty back into the senate in the near future, while among republicans there was confidence that such a move would fail.

It was suggested that should the unofficial bi-partisan committee
come to a final deadlock an effort might be made to put through the resolution of Senator Underwood, democrat, Alabama, to create an official bi-partisan committee of ten senators. The titular party leaders on both sides however indicated that they saw little hope of securing an agreement by that course.

It is definitely stated that no list
of names of men whose extradition will be demanded has as yet been received, and that the government has no hint of when it is coming or who is wanted.

FARMERS ASK PRIVATE CONTROL OF RAILS

tions met here today to urge a resolution to President Wilson and congress asking for the immediate return of the railroads to private con-

tions.

Protests against representations heretofore made that the farmers wanted government control for at least two years were made by the delegates.

ed the National Farmers congress,

JURY FOR NEWBERRY TRIAL NEARLY DRAWN

JANIN'S ORDER FOR KOLCHAK TO GIVE UP CAUSES SENSATION

[By Associated Press.] London, Jan. 28.—A sensational revolutionist was authorized by General Janin of the Czechoslovak army, who was placed in command of all allied troops west of Irkutsk on Jan. 10 by Kolchak's order, says a Harbin dispatch to the Daily Mail. A profound sensation was caused throughout the Far East by the report that Kolchak had given up, says the messenger, which was filed at Harbin Monday. One Russian general has challenged General Janin to a duel, while officers under the command of General Semenov have formed a league, the slogan of which is: "Have Janin's blood."

General Janin's explanation is awaited, but it is known that Czech reports on the situation at Irkutsk, which have been telegraphed to General Janin at Verkhneudinsk, induced him to consent to Kolchak's surrender. The Czechs claim to have been between surrendering one man and a conflict in which they were likely to be completely annihilated.

Japanese representatives asked the Czechs to hand Kolchak over to the Japanese, but this request was refused. Later the revolutionists refused a similar demand and said he would not be turned over until he had been tried before a court martial.

JAPAN NOT READY TO WITHDRAW TROOPS

[By Associated Press.] Tokyo, Tuesday, Jan. 27.—Major General Tanaka, minister of war, in reply to an interpellation in the lower house of parliament today by Baron Sakatani, financial advisor of China, said he was unable to state that Japanese troops would be withdrawn from Siberia after the withdrawal of the Czechoslovakians.

Major General Tanaka and Vice Admiral Kato, minister of the navy, both insisted that Japan's military program be left unchanged after peace, because it was intended for self-defense and not for aggression.

Viscount Uchida, foreign minister, said that negotiations between Japan and America on Siberian questions were proceeding in a friendly manner.

Speaking on the Russian situation, Viscount Uchida declared the allies did not intend to recognize the bolsheviks.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a heavy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 10c and 25c.

FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

WHERE MABLE FAILED

By Mollie Price and Allen Ward. Mable wanted an old-fashioned costume for a play. Grandmother had in her cedar wood chest an old lace doorman, poke bonnet, bodice and hoop skirts of the early forties. Mable imagined herself in these lovely garments—the envy of every other girl in school.

Grandmother was short sighted and her hands trembled as she sewed a button on Mable's dress one morning. It snapped. Mable was in a hurry and told Grandmother she was in a tone of voice not altogether pleasant. That afternoon she burst into the living room with her choice for the costume. "I must have one of your old dresses to wear at our play. Give me the key to your chest so I can pick out what I want."

Grandmother looked calmly out of the window with her thin lips shut tight. She said nothing, nor did she move from her chair. It would have been easier to push a donkey up a hill than to move that determined old Grandmother. Mable slumped her foot and told her mother what she thought of peevish old ladies.

In came Marlin, the girl next door, bringing a box of sugared almonds she had made herself.

"I'm giving you these," she said, "because I haven't any grandmother of my own."

Grandmother smiled and as she moved to put Marlin's hand, her glasses fell off. Marlin picked them up and laughingly helped her put them on.

By and by, Grandmother asked, "Are you in that play at school?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Have you a costume?"

"Not yet, I simply can't find anything."

"Humph," exclaimed the old lady. "We'll see to that. Come along with me."

They went to her room and the chest was opened revealing the frills and tulle of bygone days. Marlin was fitted out with the nicest things in the chest.

As you see, Mable tried to force Grandmother and was met with force. But Marlin led Grandmother to help her with an invisible thread. She did it naturally and with perfect sincerity. This invisible thread was fact—fact based upon kindness, sympathy and a consideration for the feelings of others.

Panic Prevails in Mine When Fan Stops Working

[By Associated Press.] Marianna, Fla., Jan. 28.—Panic prevailed in the mine of the Union Coal and Coke company here late last night when the fan suddenly ceased to operate and in the rush for the air shaft one miner was hurt. Smoke which curled out of the mine caused the widespread report today that the workings were abandoned.

Officers of the company, which is a subsidiary of the Cambria Steel company, declared there was no fire and that the 40 men in the mine when the fan stopped had all made their way to safety.

THE FELLOW THAT WORKS HARD BECAUSE HE LIKES TO WORK AIN'T BOTHERING HIS HEAD ABOUT BOLLISHEVICKIN-ISM

THE CART WHEEL

By Dr. E. D. Angell. When Ralph and Allen arrived at Beppe's barn, without a word to the startled little clown, they jumped for the mat. Together, and in perfect time, the two boys did three Roll-Overs in succession, finishing the last one standing proudly erect. They then made a deep bow in the best professional manner and looked toward their teacher for his approval.

"Fine work," said Beppe. "If you learn all the tricks as easily and quickly as you have learned the Roll-Over, you'll be hustling for my job before another circus season opens."

"Are you going to teach us another trick today, Mr. Beppe?" asked Ralph.

"You bet, and this is what it is," said Beppe, as he picked up at a row of cart wheels that took him completely around the barn floor.

"Points to Watch

"Now," said Beppe, "let's get down to business, and remember my instructions—a Cart Wheel, to be perfectly done, must look just exactly like a wheel with only four spokes, and in rim. You mustn't bend at the waist any more than is absolutely necessary, and when the legs are in the air the body must be perfectly rigid, and arms and legs straight."

How to Do It

"You take a short quick step like this," said Beppe, talking as he did this—"turn slightly to the right as the left foot is forward—place the left hand on the ground—then the right hand—get the legs well in the air, and straight—right legs comes down—then the left leg comes down—when you come to a standing position, turn a little backward as this gives a better effect. Now, boys, go to it on the mat, and don't try to do more than one Cart Wheel at a time. The boys began their practice as Beppe, in one corner of the barn, rehearsed a juggling stunt which he was going to use in next season's circus.

(Tomorrow Mr. Hyde will tell what is under the pavement.)

STORE CLERKS MAY ORGANIZE TONIGHT

Whether the grocery stores will remain open every Wednesday afternoon in the future as they were yesterday afternoon may be decided by the action which retail clerks of the city are expected to take at their meeting this evening in East Side Odd Fellows hall. The meeting has been called for the purpose of organizing the retail clerks in an association which can meet just such problems as the closing Wednesday afternoons.

Proprietors and clerks of groceries interviewed this morning said that as yet no action had been taken, and that they only remained open yesterday because one grocer broke the agreement, forcing them to keep open also.

The plan of allowing each clerk an afternoon off each week has met the approval of some grocers. Those who were interviewed, proprietors and clerks alike were of the opinion that something must be done to relieve the 68 hour a week routine of those engaged in grocery business.

Henry Ohi, general organizer of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor will be the chief speaker at the meeting which begins at 8 o'clock this evening.

SOULMAN ELECTED HEAD OF FAIR ASS'N.

John Soulman was elected president of the Janesville Fair association, succeeding Dr. Wayne C. Stunt, at a meeting of the new board of directors in Putnam's store last evening. E. H. Hanson was chosen vice-president and Harry O. Norzian was elected to succeed himself as secretary, with P. P. Croak, treasurer. Charles S. Putnam, who with Mr. Soulman is a new director, was appointed superintendent of speed, succeeding Dr. Guy Waufile.

Although no dates were fixed for the 1920 fair, it was practically agreed upon that August 10, 11, 12, and 13 would be the best ones available. The fact that the state fair will be held the first week in September prevents the staging of the local fair the same time it was held in 1919.

Johnstown, Jan. 29.—Mrs. John Morton, who is ill at Stanley hospital, Rochester, is improving again since the telegram came that she was worse.

Relatives of Mrs. Roy Wright received the news that she had passed away Monday after a lingering illness followed by pneumonia. Mrs. Wright had many friends here who remember her as Agnes Mawhinney. She spent her last days here. She leaves to mourn her loss a husband and one daughter. Funeral will be held Wednesday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mawhinney, Jansville. The funeral will be private.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Ward were entertained at a dinner at the Christian Rye home last Sunday. Traffic is suspended on account of the drifted snow and the cold weather. Those going to the condenser with milk encounter bad roads.

3-INCH STRIP OF LAND HOLDS UP SALE IN N. Y.

New York.—A 3-inch strip of land fifty feet long, owned by two infants, is holding up a sale of real estate in the Bronx, according to a petition presented to the Supreme Court by the minors' guardian asking permission to sell the land.

The land, which is entirely enclosed by neighboring property, having no frontage on any street, resulted from a surplus in laying out in 1863 the village of Greve Hill now a part of New York city.

Called to the court to permit the sale, the petitioner explained, a neighboring property holder would apply for a partition of the strip, which would result in the infant holding an inch and a half of land apiece. This, it was stated, would make their land worthless.

WOMAN CIGAR SMOKER

Paris.—Should a woman smoke a cigar in a public restaurant? This was the question with which the manager of one of the best known Paris hotels was suddenly confronted.

After luncheon a lady drew from her vanity bag a beautiful platinum cigar-case and, extracting from it a choice Havana, asked the waiter to bring her some coffee. She then sat back in her chair to enjoy the effect of the smoke, but the manager decided to see nothing and found young business awaited him elsewhere.

Voice of the People

To the Editor:

Just a word to those who plow snow on the country highways. Why do you not hitch your plow behind your bob runner instead of on the side and make a track for a one-horse rig? Your tracks are too far apart and cost too much to make.

Probably your mail man would appreciate it.

Good; keep it up. "Recreation for girls" is the school from New York city, its headquarters, where the American City is edited. All phases of community work, membership campaigns, research developing and other matters of interest to Chambers of Commerce will be discussed. Fraternity houses will be used to house the students.

"From Madison people's standpoint," Mr. Mowry has said, "the school will prove a big advertisement for the university and for the business men, and it will also be of value to the city."

WHO'S WHO in the Daily News

REV. CHARLES M. SHELDON.

Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, author of "In His Steps" and 35 other successful books, and probably the most famous pastor in the United States, became editor-in-chief of The Christian Herald on Jan. 21.

Mr. Sheldon recently resigned as pastor of the Central Congregational church in Topeka, Kan., after 8 years of service, to take the post on The Christian Herald filled for many years before his death by T. De Witt Talmage.

Mr. Sheldon's entrance into national journalism is a logical sequence of his activities for the last 25 years, during which his books, his world-embracing lecture tours and his prominence as a contributor to all the important magazines on moral, economic and sociological movements, have made him an eminent figure in both the religious and literary spheres.

"In His Steps," which published first in 1892, and since then has been translated into 15 languages and has rolled up a sale record of 16,000,000 copies. Since its first publication Mr. Sheldon accepted the invitation of the editor of the Topeka Capital to take charge of that newspaper for a week and run it as he believed Jesus would run a daily journal. The experiment attracted attention all over the country. The Capital's circulation increased from 12,000 to 360,000, and it was necessary to print editions of 100,000 in both New York and Chicago. The demands for it were named temporary Holstein agent.

While attending Brown university, from which he was graduated in 1888, Mr. Sheldon put most of his expenses by writing for newspapers and magazines. During his last year in school he was editor of the college paper, The Brunonian.

He went to Topeka in 1889 after a two-year pastorate in Waterbury, Vt., and preached his first sermon in a little rented room over a grocery and meat market. His congregation then numbered 67 people. His pastoral methods were unique and quickly attracted attention to the little church. Its growth was rapid and today it has a membership of 1,500, with a wide range of social and community service.

IT'S THE YOUNG MEN'S JOB.
The incentive to action should be strengthened in the young men of Janesville, who have taken part in the drive for a new hotel, especially with the encouragement expressed by W. C. Durant, president of the General Motors corporation, at the dinner given by J. A. Craig to the entire hotel canvassing committee at the Myers hotel last evening. Mr. Durant did not stint in his praise for the work accomplished and predicted that the young men of Janesville would carry through on other community undertakings. He indicated that with the figures on the subscription lists, there was practical assurance of the building of the new hotel.
Mr. Durant repeated what he has said a number of times, that he is for Janesville and that he has never regretted for a moment the decision to locate the General Motors plant here—so with the young men getting under the lead as they are so graciously doing, and with the great opportunities which are unfolding themselves, can you, Mr. Citizen, lie dormant to the call for action? OUR LIBERALITY HAS LIMITS
The United States treasury loaned ten billion dollars to various allied countries after we entered the war. Much of the money went to Great Britain, which handed it along to smaller states which it was financing. France, Italy, Russia and Serbia all owe us large sums. Europe is still suffering so severely from war's paralyses that even the interest cannot be paid at present. Our government has suggested letting interest accumulate for three years, and then adding it to the principal sums due us.

This statement is by way of preface to a few remarks on the proposals made by John Maynard Keynes, representative of the British treasury at the peace conference, in his new book, "The Economic Consequences of the Peace."

Mr. Keynes recently attracted attention through the publication in the "New Republic" of a chapter of his book, in which he denounced the moral bankruptcy of the peace conference, and the failure of President Wilson to obtain an ideal settlement.

Two interesting contentions are made by Mr. Keynes:

1. That Germany's indemnity should be cut from twenty-five billion dollars to ten billions, and,
2. That the allies should forgive one another their war debts.

At the moment we are not so much interested in proposition No. 1 as we are in the scheme to persuade the United States to make Europe a present of ten billions. Mr. Keynes is one of the school of ultra-liberals who weep for Germany, demand that the wrongs done her at Versailles be righted, and then insist that rich old Uncle Sam foot the bill for a big part of Europe's war expense.

On top of this most interesting and seriously-meant proposal, Mr. Keynes advocates a great new inter-allied loan to be used to set Europe on its feet again. The United States, of course, would be expected to furnish most of the money.

Mr. Keynes will not find Americans wildly enthusiastic over his proposals. We are struggling now under the burdens of enormous taxes and rising costs of living because of our willingness to spend twenty-five billions to help whip the Germans. The invitation to cancel ten billions of debts, and thus to prolong our troubles, does not offer the faintest appeal.

We are all inclined to think that Herbert Hoover said the sensible thing when he proposed that Europe get to work. The United States cannot and will not succor that continent indefinitely, and the sooner our European friends realize it, the better.

CREATING NEW CRIMES.

The action of the South Carolina senate in passing a bill which prohibits smoking in the dining rooms of hotels and other public places is a good illustration of one of the crying evils of the times—the tendency to create new crimes by legislative enactment. If the measure finally reaches the governor it is to be hoped that he will have the sense to veto it, not because smoking in public is to be condoned, although there are comparatively few persons to whom it is offensive, but to show disapproval of the course of the legislature in magnifying what is at worst a petty annoyance into a crime.

The way to deal with trivial offenses of this character is not to pass laws against them which no one expects will be constantly and rigidly enforced. If smoking in hotel dining rooms is such a nuisance as the South Carolina senate would lead one to suppose it was, the hotel proprietors have it in their power to stop it. And if public sentiment favors the prohibition of smoking in such places the hotel men will be quick enough to yield to it, without having to be forced by a statute into taking action.

If there is any reason for complaint against the number of laws on the books it is that they are too numerous rather than too few. Occasionally an unprecedented situation arises, such as the present seditious plotting of radical agitators against the government, which may demand the enactment of new laws to cope with it, but as a general rule it may be said that provision has already been made in the statutes for the

JUST FOLKS
Edgar A. Guest

There is no treasure, sought or sung,
So sweet as that of being young;
Monarchs look down upon the boy
And envy him his years of joy;
Rich men the bare-foot lad behold
And for his chance would give their gold;
All men of skill would give their fame
Their vanished youth once more to claim.

He that has youth still holds the seeds
Of greatness and its manly deeds;
To him the morning glories are fair
And there is beauty everywhere,
Upon his heart no burden lies,
Tears have not over-drained his eyes;
The glories of the world remain
For him to fight for and to gain.

There's none so great or rich, but he Wishes once more a boy to be;
Life grants to none such treasures rare
As those which youth alone may share—
The glow of health, the radiant smile,
The freedom from the sham of style.
Great deeds not done, and songs unsung,
Belong to him who still is young.

Richer is he yet millionaire
Who has not yet come into care;
Monarchs with all that they possess
And all their pomp and regal dress,
Have no such bank accounts of joy
As those belonging to a boy;
Like shining pearls the years are strung
For him to count who still is young.

PROSECUTION OF CRIMES AND MISDEMEANORS THAT SHOULD BE BROUGHT INTO COURT.

A law such as the proposed one against smoking is certain to be broken again and again with impunity. This will have the effect of breeding contempt for other laws.

Let existing crimes be suppressed before new ones are created.

Japanese Hotels
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN, Director
Janesville Daily Gazette Information Bureau,
Washington, D. C.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Japanese hotel keepers expect a grand rush of tourists in the near future, and hotels are being spruced up accordingly. The Japanese variety would suggest a flea beside an elephant. Up to now, hotels of this modern size and style have been inadequate, but a company is planning a $5,000,000 hotel in Tokyo, which will be conspicuous for both size and completeness.

The European hotel with its marble floors, Turkish baths, and rose gardens, is frequented almost entirely by foreigners. Japanese of the middle and higher classes prefer a wholly native atmosphere.

"Once Mr. Yamaguchi says, 'we thought that everything from America was good—and for the most part it was. But American ways were not suitable for us, and now we return to the Japanese ideal.' So Japan who travel about their islands stop at the native inns."

Most of these purchases, he explains, are labor saving devices. Japanese labor is neither so cheap nor so plentiful as it once was, and so motory to freeze ice cream, chop meat, and wash dishes must replace hand labor, even in the most remote villages.

Five dollars a month is the present pay for a maid in Japan. To think that management adds food and clothing, which bring the cost of a girl to about $15. The Japanese maid fully covers her salary in a little while. She knows little of eight-hour agitation, but works steadily for 10 hours, sometimes longer. Her short-holiday domestic has reached Japan and labor is beginning to demand a 57 hour week in place of 75 hours or longer.

Most guests are Americans. Mr. Yamaguchi has given a good thought to the policy of the Japanese hotel. Most of the guests at the best hotels there are Americans, and the next in number are Europeans. "We are a 'people,'" he says, "do not go to Japan to see the American style of building, and still we put up hotels that shall have Japanese effect, but they must be simple, easily cleaned, and sanitary—no elaborate carvings as in the American inns."

Western food and furniture combined with Japanese decorations come as near to satisfying everybody as possible, he finds. Mr. Yamaguchi has visited New York's biggest hotels, and those of Washington and White Sulphur Springs. He has seen the way to new Orleans, then across the continent to Riverside, Calif., and other western cities. The results of his study will be incorporated in his new hotel, now being built at Yokohama. The new hotel is to be concrete structure, six stories high, and containing like a skyscraper in Japan, and is only made possible by the use of concrete.

PERSONETTE
JAMES GORDON BENNETT
The transaction by which the New York Herald passed from the Bennett family into the hands of Frank Munsey, came to mind the founder of the Herald. James Gordon Bennett, who is considered one of the greatest of American newspaper men.
One hundred and one years ago James Gordon Bennett, then a young man of 24, sailed to Halifax from Scotland to make his fortune. This he evidently proposed to do by teaching bookbinding in Halifax, but a slow and uninteresting method of accumulating riches. He made a failure of his pedagogical project, which is an encouraging fact for young men who wish to succeed, showing as it does that a failure in one line can be a big success in another. Then he came to Boston, where he was so destitute, according to his unsympathetic biographer, James Parton, that for two days he lived without food, and might have remained so longer if he hadn't the good fortune to find a sheltering home.

His first newspaper work in New York was not highly rewarded financially either. To quote Parton, "he produced almost every year a paper which was a financial failure." However, he managed to scrape together about $500 in the course of time, and with this capital and an immense capacity for hard work he founded the Herald. His first office was in a cellar in Wall street. It was furnished with a desk consisting of two flour barrels with a plank across them, and a wooden chair. Bennett was the whole staff, reporter, editorial writer, business manager, office boy. His working day was 17 hours long. It began at 5 in the morning when he dashed off his humorous verses and satiric letters for business hours, and it ended late at night when there were no more theaters or balls to report.

A few months after the paper was started and just when it was beginning to pay its way the printing office was burnt out, a happening which so discouraged the two printers who were working on the paper that they withdrew. But nothing seemed to discourage Bennett. As Parton says "It was one poor man in a cellar against the odds, but he won out." And for 55 years the Herald, and later the Telegram, first under his direction, and later his son, were among the first newspapers of the country.

SPEAKING OF SOULS.
We are satisfied that there is something wrong with our soul. Up until recently it gave us very little trouble, and it worked very nicely. But we hardly knew it was there. We know we have one, for an evangelist by the name of Billy Sunday told us so personally. He said that if we didn't have one, we wouldn't be here.

But lately, with the advent of so many occultists, second-sighters, foreign poets and esopaths, we have come to realize that if Bill was right, and we really have a soul, it is old-fashioned one and not a late model. It seems to lack some of the modern improvements and accessories.

When some foreign soul-avator comes along and steps on the gas our soul doesn't seem to be a Glenn Curtiss or an Eddie Rickenbacker at all, but just stays and hovers around the ground like a chicken. It refuses to do any of the loop-the-loop, now or fall spins so popular with the "intellectuals."

It doesn't seem to respond to the modernly arranged radio, and its insubstantiality of the cosmos, or any of the other crusades brought over by the serious thinkers of Europe. It couldn't follow even one of those "harmonic" horsemen, and so far as getting into harmony with Mater-lic's "harmonic soul strings" it is ill-equipped. It is a German street band trying to play in the Metropolitan Opera house.

If there is any way to fix our soul, or else to get it out of a good society, we would be obliged for information. When our soul goes to one of these highbrow soul fights, it is a miserable sight to see him trying to wear a dress suit.

There is an adage which says, "Lay something aside for a rainy day." There is a man in New Kensington, Pa., who revised this old proverb and prepared for a drought. Read how he did it.

"Every stove in the house," and there were three of them, was filled with bottles of bonded liquor. The house was filled with the chimney claimed its share, many were reposing in Paluso's bed, at least 35 were immersed in the rain barrel. The house in flames and the old-fashioned clock had no room for the long pendulum to swing with but a prick of glass. When the police had finished their search more than 500 bottles of the best brands of bonded whisky had been unearthed."

Alexander F. Kerensky, who succeeded the czar as ruler of Russia, is waiting on table in a London "best and bestery" and is down at the heel, but he has the edge on about three hundred and fifty million Russians at that, for he can eat corn and corn meal and beans every once in a while.

We know a man in New Jersey who owns 250,000 chickens and, just as a matter of curiosity, we would like to see his income tax return.

We wonder what has become of the famous Phil Boose who used to run a saloon in Grand Rapids.

The first meeting of the League of Nations will be held on Mount Olympus.

Their editors are always sure that the bolshevik publications will be red.

Would it be out of order to suggest Dr. Cook as minister to Copenhagen? They know him there.

OREGON COLLEGE HENS SET NEW RECORD.

Corvallis, Ore.—A dozen hens at the Oregon Agricultural college set a new record for egg production, James S. Dryden, professor at the college, has announced.

Each of those hens in one year laid more than 300 eggs, the best producing 300 and two others 324.

All these hens have set a record for the number of eggs laid in one year. Dryden, are of the strain that several years ago developed Lady McDuff, the first hen to have laid more than 300 eggs a year in a trap nest. Her record was 303.

FRENCH FEATHERWEIGHT, RECENT ARRIVAL, TELLS SECRET OF CARPENTIER'S SUCCESS

Jacques Burdell.

By NORMAN E. BROWN.
"Ze Hypnotic Eye? Poof, poof; se ne fait rien."
This is the belief of Jack Burdell, French boxer, just arrived in this country, regarding the better that Georges Carpentier, European heavyweight champion, is aided in his bouts by the hypnotic eye of his manager, Desamps.
Which is to say, in English: "Oh, giddle, it means nothing."
Burdell arrived in the United States December 2 to seek fame and fortune in these here parts. With him he brought the claim of being the real featherweight champion of France. He claims to have beaten "Riqui" for the title in the same ring in which Carpentier defeated Joe Jeannette before the war.
Burdell saw three years' service in the war as a member of the aviation forces.
"For a year I was in the same squad with Carpentier," says Burdell. "Whenever we got a chance to work out in a gymnasium we worked together, skipping the rope and shadow boxing. I have seen Carpentier fight many times.
I never knew about the hypnotic eye. I do know this, though: Carpentier, as all the fighters here know, boxes left-handed, with his left arm extended. He watches his man out of his left eye. He is a perfect judge of distance. He doesn't have to feint to measure the distance to his man's jaw or head. Carpentier just looks out of that left eye and hits—like lightning. He doesn't need to use hypnosis."
Burdell typifies the present young generation in France. He was only sixteen and just out of school when the war broke out. He enlisted and was sent to the front. He was discharged once, but asked to be taken into the service again. He is now twenty-one.
Desamps, manager of Burdell, has booked him for a bout with Johnny Newton at Ashland, O., Jan. 22, and hopes to line up several more bouts for him to prep him finally for a bout with Featherweight Champion Johnny Kilbane.

FIGHT DECISIONS

Chicago.—Martin Plesina defeated Jess Westergaard in straight falls.
Springfield, Ill.—Jimmy Hanlon scored a technical knockout over Neil Allison in the fourth round.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Physicians here not long ago raised the rates, then the nurses demanded an increase in their weekly stipend, which the public was compelled to pay; the druggists, not to be outdone, lifted the cost of medicines over that of pre-war days; the undertaker, unafraid in the midst of the glamour of the high cost of living, revised his schedule upward, and last, but not least, the tombstone man declares that he must have 20 percent more money for perpetuating man's past deeds or misdeeds. Tombstones, never cheap, will now be taxed as luxuries.

THE "CUSTOM OF KISSING" FAILS TO SAVE HER.
London, Eng.—In disposing of a divorce action from Stornoway in the Court of Session, Edinburgh, Lord Sands commented on the practice of kissing among church people attending communion in the Highlands. It had been alleged by the respondent in the case that she had been kissed by the co-respondent as a religious custom.

Lord Sands said the existence of such a custom seemed somewhat startling, but it was explained by the fact that it had been the practice for only a mere handful of the adherents of the church to participate in communion, although the communion season was a far more solemn occasion in the Highlands than in the Lowlands. It might be all very well for the saints to have one another with a chaste Oriental religious salute, but it was a different matter when it came to young married women being promiscuously kissed by casual male acquaintances who happened to be fellow communicants. That extension of the custom was viewed with disapproval by many, but still to a certain extent the custom persisted.

This Lordship held, however, that the kissing in the case in question had exceeded religious custom, and he granted a decree of divorce.

Noted Indian Baseball Stars Will Become Battery Mates

Big Chief Bender and Chief Meyers, the greatest Indian players that ever broke into professional baseball, will be battery mates this season down in New Haven, Conn. Bender is managing the team there and the chief is catching for him. The two braves hooked up in many battles on rival teams in the majors when Bender was hurling for Connie Mack and Meyers was with the Giants. The pair ought to be a big drawing card for New Haven, especially in view of the fact that Bender had a great year in the minors last season, winning twenty-six games or thereabouts.

Chicago, Ill.—Hope for the homely girls and a tip for dancing young men were offered by J. As boss of a dance floor on which thousands of both ugly and pretty girls do the hop, skip, jump and drag of the new dances he has observed closely, he says, and declares that he knows whereof he speaks.
Says Guyon: "Ugly girls make the best dancers. They are more graceful than pretty girls because they are more serious and work harder make up for lack of facial beauty."
"Pretty girls are lazy and indifferent as a rule. They are apt to be contented."

FLYING FROM DRY U. S.
Kansas City, Mo.—Louis St. Clair, formerly a saloonkeeper here, and whose specialty has always been "mixed drinks," is going to move, either to Cuba or Australia, and take with him two carloads of Kentucky whiskey now stored in government bonded warehouses. At the present price of whiskey the supply is worth about $100,000. St. Clair applied at the federal building for passports for himself and wife and son, Osmond.
"I'm going to look over Cuba, and if the possibilities look good, I am going to open an American bar," St. Clair explained. "If Cuba doesn't look good I'm going to Australia." St. Clair has been in the liquor business 35 years.

FEET COMPLIMENTED.
London, Eng.—Sir Charles Johnston, at a dinner of the Old Comrades association of the fifth battalion, City of London Volunteer regiment, said that while in Buffalo, N. Y., with his wife, the conductor of a tramway car refused to change for him a $20 bill, the only money he had.
He asked a colored man beside him if he could change it. "No, I can't," was the reply. "But I am obliged to you for the compliment."

WOMEN IN THE PULPIT.
London, Eng.—The shortage of clerical is a question which must be faced seriously, said the Bishop of Chester. "I should like also to extend the sphere of lay help. I am more anxious than ever to enlist the services of highly qualified women. They form the larger part of our congregations, and the church will fall disastrously and I will almost say, deservedly, unless it tries its best in a respectful spirit to enlist the services of qualified and able women."

BABY BORN IN SUBWAY.
New York.—Dr. Sophia Andrews began the new year as a Bellevue ambulance surgeon. Her first call was to the Fourteenth street station of the Lexington avenue subway. In the women's waiting room there she found Mrs. Gilda Alvarez, 24 years old. The physician was just in time to assist in the arrival of an eight-pound baby girl. Mother and daughter were removed to Bellevue. The little one will be christened Sophia Andrews Alvarez.

HEISE ROLLS 256; GAZETTE MAKES 948; PARKER TUMBLES

Three new records were set up in the Industrial-Commercial league bowling at the Arcade alleys last night, and one new record for all league bowling in the city. Rolling a pretty hook-ball, Bill Heise of the Gazette team crashed into the pins for a count of 256 in the first game with the Parker Pen.

With Pico and the rest of the newspapermen holding their own, the score of the first game was shot to 948, the best mark for a five-man team in the Industrial league. The final score for three games, 2699, set a new figure for the I-C.

Last night's game was keen rivalry. With Parker leading the league by two games, Gazette was out to spill them from the top. Heise's lucky curve and dropped three games and Gazette took first in race. The second game did just what the first did, and the contest. After a talk between the captains, it was decided to bowl an extra game to decide the winner. Gazette won.

SAMSON DROPS TO ROCKFORD, 18-5

Overwhelmed in the first half by the speed of their opponents, Samson basketball five lost to the Rockford team last night, 18-5. The Rockford team used defensive tactics throughout the opening period caused mainly by the loss of Samson, who was unable to make the trip on account of illness.

With the second half opening at 18 to 1, Samson not only showed a different type of playing but held the Rockford five to no score. The ball was Samson's for the balance of the game but a streak of bad luck held them. Five after time they shot the ball at the basket but it had a strange tendency to whirl around the ring or jump out of the basket. Many of these were taken by Kline, who was playing right forward. Crook was his running mate. Fein held center guard with Biglow working in the second half for Donahue.

The game was clean throughout. Officials of the Rockford high school refereed.

I don't mean the notices
About not being responsible for

That I bring in myself.
And the other day I went away
And left a brand new book
That I had just borrowed.
And when I went back
A very polite waiter handed it to me
And I had a slip of paper on it
On which was written

And of course
I gave him a big tip.
And as I went out
I saw him rubbing out "blue spats"

The castle-crag of Drachenfels,

So Byron's ringing poem tells,

But let me add in limping verse,
The little that I have to say—
The castle's frown is ten times worse
Than in the poet's halcyon day.

For Germany was keen to greet
The British bard-lothario.
But they were not poetic for
That now clump by on sentry-go.

"Pa" Doorbaker, Dean of Bowling, 65 Years Young

(By FRANK SINGLARI.)
Sixty-five years young today and hale and hearty—"Pa" Doorbaker, proprietor of the Arcade alleys, The Dean of Bowling for Southern Wisconsin and Northern Illinois is being heartily congratulated by his many friends of the Ten Pins.

Doorbaker, as many here have come to fondly call him—has done more for bowling in this part of the country than perhaps any other one man. Not long after he was born in Lafayette, Ind., that is when he became old enough to hold a ball in his hand, he started setting pins. And he's been at the game ever since.

That was 52 years ago. In 1897, he opened his first alleys at his native town, Lafayette, and held them until he decided to go to Lebanon, Ind., the following year. Rockford drew him in 1899, where he stayed for a year, going from there to Beloit, where he located on Grand avenue. He liked the Gateway city so well that he hung on for 13 years until he came to Janesville in March of last year. At one time he had alleys at Monroe and Portage in addition to Beloit and spent his time making trips between the three places to keep them going to full swing.

A Real Sport.
When "Pa" came here, he found alleys that were in run down, obsolete condition. He ripped out the old runs, put in new ones and, constructed new alleys on the second floor of his Main street place. Today he has as good a set of alleys as any town several thousand population larger can boast.

This gives the commercial side of his bowling. The other side of the sporting aspect, shows the real Doorbaker. As far back as the days when he had his alleys in Rockford, Doorbaker fostered city tournaments. He created a strong rivalry between Rockford and Beloit, giving backing to three teams in his town. He was a member of one of these teams, proving himself to be a consistent bowler. He has never made any startling scores—or if he has they were executed at other times than in matches; and match scores are all added up like a problem in mathematics. His best average was 155 to 160. His best average was 230 several years ago when he rolled 223, 214, 217, 254, and 241.

Higher scores have been made with new pins, at Delavan, in 1903, was 280. In piling that up he made one spare in the second frame and then ran off 14 strikes.

Science of Game.
The clean sportsmanship of bowling is what appeals to Doorbaker. He can talk for hours on heavy hits and light hits, and how the pins should fall when the ball is the cloud in at all the angles imaginable. Moreover, he doesn't just talk about it; he has the listener down the alley to illustrate the actual "real fun" of the game, he says, "comes in the unexpected breaks."

But get him to tell you stories of the old days. He can spin the yarns so fast and with such a holding interest that it is worth all kinds of money to get him to tell you about the days of 1870, or thereabouts, when the balls had no finger-holes and had to be taken in the palm of the hand and thrown down the alley.

"Some of those fellows," says Doorbaker, "could certainly throw a swift one."
In Olden Days.
In those days the pins could be set on either end and three balls were used and with such a holding interest that it is worth all kinds of money to get him to tell you about the days of 1870, or thereabouts, when the balls had no finger-holes and had to be taken in the palm of the hand and thrown down the alley.

WANT WISCONSIN IN HUDSON REGATTA

New York, Jan. 29.—After a lapse since 1916, the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie will be revived this year and will be rowed on the Hudson course on Thursday, July 1.

The varsity race will be rowed over a three mile course, an innovation which was to have been tried in 1917, when all colleges were closed by an abrupt halt because of the war.

CARDS WILL MEET FAIRIES WITHOUT ANY ENFORCEMENTS

TO FANS.—Three special cars on the Northwestern will leave Janesville at 7:10 this evening for Beloit. On the return, leave Beloit at 10:30.

Further crippling of the Cardinal basketball team is reported today by the managers. The two men who were expected to join the five to take Welser's place and that of Young have sent notices that they cannot be on hand.

As a result the Cards will journey to Beloit tonight handicapped. However, their fighting spirit is at its highest pitch. The old note of rivalry which has grown up more than ever between the two teams is bound to mean something in the scrap on the college court.

If ever the fans were needed in rooting and to give support it is now. The ten have plenty of get up and go to it; they are going to throw their strength and brains into the like score sheets; states were used and the total number of pins was added up like a problem in mathematics. Team bowling was far out of the question. Individual bowling was a difficult enough task. He even recalls the days of smoky kerosene lamps.

The first finger-holes came out about 1895, he says, in the east at about the same time as maple alleys. The bowlers out here in these parts had been wondering how the Eastern men could get scores much higher than theirs. Finally a tournament was arranged in New York where the Chicago men learned that pine center alleys with heavy kick backs made a faster surface, and they took to the new arrangements at once.

Cured His Rheumatism.
There is another thing that Doorbaker finds in being a Knight of the Ten Pins. That is the healthfulness of the game. Some few years ago, Doorbaker suffered severely from rheumatism and it caused his joints to swell to such a degree that he was unable to move.

He has spoken to physicians about it since and they have told him that the bowling exercise gave him much more relief than the blood, even into the finger tips. Despite his age, Doorbaker is still an active bowler. While he is still quite up to his old form, he is still good for 300 score.
Bowling, however, does not hold all of Doorbaker's attention. If you haven't learned that, wait until next summer. Doorbaker is a fisherman, and as good a caster as to be found. There's hardly a stream anywhere in this part of the country that he can't get a fish. He knows the holes and how they run. Ask him to show you that photo of 24 in one catch.

ALL-STARS AFTER MILTON'S BACON

The "Y" All-Stars will meet the Milton college "seconds" tonight. Milton, handicapped by the loss of "Chick" Babcock, left forward, who is recovering from a recent operation. His place will be taken by "Hov" Black with "Whitely" Graft as running mate. Joe Prox is also off the team for a while; he is suffering from "flu."

"Blonde" Fullerman will hold down the pivot position. Graesslin will cover right guard with Marko or Zahn at left.

Ferrill and McDonald will play forward for the "seconds." Sayre will likely appear at center, and Burdick and Curtis, guards. This team defeated the Stars a week ago and the locals are out for blood.
